

Van Cleef & Arpels to showcase sought after jewellery items

Tuesday, May 17, 2011 9:24 AM

1

Like

An extravagant pair of turquoise and diamond earrings from the collection of luxury jewellery designers, Van Cleef & Arpels, are to be displayed at this year's Masterpiece London premium collectors event.

Exhibited by Epoque Fine Jewells and signed by Van Cleef & Arpels, the earrings are extremely rare and amongst some of the most sought after jewellery items in the world.

Epoque Fine Jewells has a penchant for Art Deco pieces, particularly those from the forties, fifties and sixties, and this is emphasised in the design of the mounted gold ear pieces.

The Masterpiece London event is now in its second year and once again aims to showcase the very best in fine and decorative arts.

Included within the wide array of items on show are a range of premium collectors' products such as classic cars, fine wines and contemporary design.

The event takes place at South Grounds, Royal Chelsea hospital between June 30 and July 5.

Tags: collectors items, earrings, jewellery, luxury living, masterpiece london

PropertyEnvy

PropertyEnvy

'Six million Britons rely on nannies, cleaners and gardeners' <http://t.co/c9oa1X3>
4 days ago · reply · retweet · favorite

The Alexa Chung effect? - 'Mulberry bucks the economic downturn with quadrupled annual profits': <http://t.co/Suj7QRO>
4 days ago · reply · retweet · favorite

Stamp Duty effects the prime property market: <http://t.co/mPHuMB2>
4 days ago · reply · retweet · favorite

Join the conversation

PINK

THOMAS PINK
JERMYN STREET LONDON

Shop Online

Free Newsletter

Sign up to propertyenvy.co.uk's free newsletter.

Name

Email

Go!

Subject to terms of use and privacy policy

Luxury Property

New luxury accommodation website launched
Luxury properties for sale in northern France

Yorkshire home wins coveted property award

Million pound property market enjoying a revival

London prices rise as overseas buyers snap up luxury homes

Revealed: the country's most exclusive addresses

Off market sales return to London's prime properties

Prime Platinum property asking prices continue to rise

Swap your home for a luxury holiday away

Six out of 10 high value homes 'could be underinsured'

Around 60 per cent of Britain's high net worth homeowners are underestimating

the true value of their possessions, such as art, antiques or jewellery, leaving them at risk of being underinsured, Hiscox warned today.

Sought after designer launches new German show

The inaugural solo show of British interior designer, Benjamin Hubert, has gone on display in Germany. Entitled 'Materiality', the exhibition aims to take visitors into the working mind of the designer and his patented material driven design approach.

Swap your home for a luxury holiday away

Houseproud Brits are being encouraged to swap their home for another luxury property and save hundreds of pounds on their summer holiday, offering an authentic home away from home experience.

Luxury holiday on your own private island

For the ultimate in luxury holidays, how about renting your very own island? Sofitel Luxury Hotels has launched a package that allows you and your guests to take over an entire motu in Bora Bora, French Polynesia, for three glorious nights.

Jeffrey Archer raises 402,100 at charity auction

Author Jeffrey Archer grabbed the gavel for charity, raising £402,100 for a number of causes at a star-studded auction. Lots included items from Baroness Thatcher, Eric Clapton, Bernie Ecclestone, Lawrence Dallaglio, Sir Michael

ACHICA

Save up to 70% on

luxury
home
&
lifestyle
brands
- all year
round

JOIN NOW
FOR FREE

House Prices

Britain's property market at an impasse, surveyors claim

House prices hit lowest level 18 months
London house prices up 34% since March 2009

Britain's property market 'is moving sideways'

Annual sales of £1m plus properties 'rise by 58%'

Surge in property sales as sellers get pragmatic on price

Million pound property sales 'up by 14%'

House prices 'mirror economic output' in the UK

Property prices 'rise to highest level since October 2008'

'Homes more affordable to average buyer'