

THE LAPADA ART & ANTIQUES FAIR

21st – 25th September 2011, Berkeley Square, London

This takes place at Berkeley Square and among silver and jewellery on offer is:

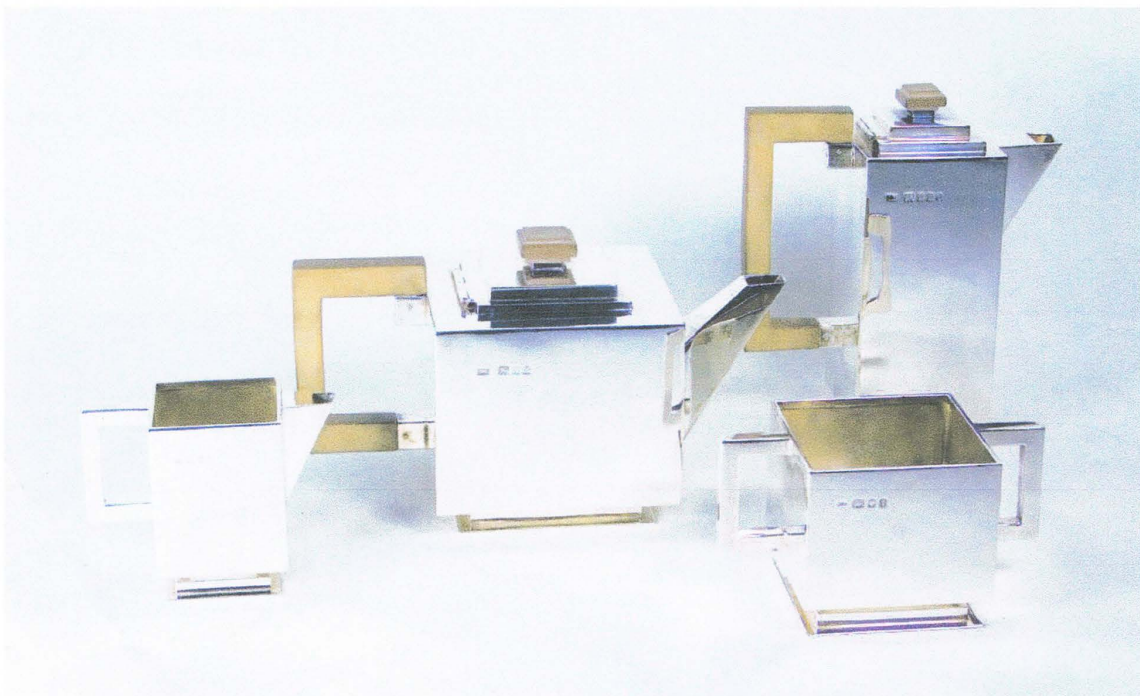

Paul Bennett: This rare and stunning Charles II Porringer and Cover was made in London in 1663. It weighs 37 ounces and is nearly 8.5 inches tall to the top of the finial. The Porringer and Cover boasts attractive floral chasing and an engraved crest.

Epoque Fine Jewels, Belgium: An early Art Deco platinum, sapphire and diamond swallow brooch. Circa 1915. Collection Epoque Fine Jewels, Belgium.

The Belgian firm Époque Fine Jewels are showing a fine selection of Art Deco pieces including this early platinum, diamond and sapphire swallow brooch, circa 1915.

Charles Boyton worked very much in the Arts & Crafts ethos and signed the pieces he made, as can be seen in this rare Art Deco cube pattern teaset (London 1933) on B. Silverman's stand.

B. Silverman: A very rare Art Deco cube pattern tea set by Charles Boyton London, 1933. All pieces are signed by the artist.
